Detailed description: This figure shows a user interface for a travel-related application. It features a large rectangular frame containing an outline map of the United Kingdom and Ireland. Below the map, there are two text input fields. The first field is preceded by the text 'Please Enter Your Departure Address' and is labeled with reference numeral 17. The second field is preceded by the text 'Please Enter Your Destination Address' and is labeled with reference numeral 21. To the right of these fields are two rectangular boxes, labeled 19 and 23 respectively. A 'Submit' button, labeled 27, is positioned to the right of the destination address field. Reference numerals 11 and 15 point to the top-left and top-right corners of the main frame, respectively.
